Indo-German Dialogue on Green Urban Practices

Social innovation and change agents towards sustainable lifestyles and consumption

9 – 11 March 2017 | Exhibition Hall | CERC Campus | Kalakshetra

Our dialogical gathering is set up as a collaboratory (collaboration laboratory) - a temporary space of co-creation in which diverse stakeholders engage with each other around a complex burning issue. A collaboratory process leverages collective intelligence based on the genuine concerns and dreams of the participants. The facilitators will support their emergent process of mutual learning and shared inquiry into desirable futures. The collaboratory methodology merges several time-tested holistic approaches, such as Appreciative Inquiry, Bohmian Dialogue, Design Thinking, Open Space, Theory U, and Whole Person Learning, into a stimulating vision-to-action choreography. For more information see <https://collaboratorybook.wordpress.com> and www.leadership-for-transition.eu.

If you represent an initiative or organisations, please bring a set of flyers/brochures to the event. All other materials needed during the collaboratory will be available at the venue.
